Education

Aug 2023 - today

University of Bergen - Cognitive Science

Cognitive Science is an interdisciplinary field that combines computer science, artificial intelligence, and human cognition. Through this program, I have gained insight into how technology can simulate human thinking, problem-solving, and decision-making. A key focus of my studies is the development of AI systems and understanding human information processing, which includes areas such as natural language processing, machine learning, and logic.

This background equips me with a strong foundation in both technical and analytical skills, which are directly applicable to developing innovative solutions in a collaborative and dynamic environment
